

AVGS FAQ

What is AVGS voucher (Aktivierungs- und Vermittlungsgutschein)?

The AVGS is an activation and placement voucher that is offered by the Bundesagentur für Arbeit and Job Center to job seekers and unemployed people in Germany.

How does AVGS coaching work?

The cost of the coaching program is 100% covered by the AVGS voucher (Aktivierungs- und Vermittlungsgutschein). It is issued by your local Jobcenter or the Employment Agency (Agentur für Arbeit).

How do I know I meet the qualifications?

Registered unemployed people in Germany are entitled to the AVGS voucher after they have undergone six weeks of unemployment. Others who are registered at the Job Center can also apply for the voucher. This includes graduate students, those looking to change career paths, and more. However it is up to the Arbeitsagentur or Job Center to decide to approve this.

ENGLISH:

Dear Sirs and Madames,

I hereby apply for an AVGS voucher to receive job and application coaching with the aim of taking up employment subject to social security contributions. Since long-term integration into the labor market is a priority for me, coaching seems to be the appropriate measure to achieve this and to avoid a prolonged period of unemployment. I have already informed myself and found a provider that suits me:

GERMAN:

Sehr geehrte Damen und Herren,

Hiermit beantrage ich einen AVGS-Gutschein für ein Job- und Bewerbungscoaching mit dem Ziel der Aufnahme einer sozialversicherungspflichtigen Beschäftigung. Da die langfristige Integration in den Arbeitsmarkt für mich nach Beendigung meiner jetzigen Tätigkeit im Vordergrund steht, erscheint mir Coaching die geeignete Maßnahme, um dies zu erreichen und eine längere Arbeitslosigkeit zu vermeiden. Ich habe mich bereits informiert und einen zu mir passenden Anbieter gefunden:
